

Love Requires Assembly

Words and Music © 1991 Jamie McElman,
Mountain Rise Music, All Rights Reserved

The thunder left me trembling
It echoes through my thoughts today
It's a vision that won't go away
An' are we just pretending
Or could we really be what the other needs
I wish you'd tell me what you believe.

Where do we go
Who's to lead
Who'll follow
Hey, does anybody know?

Love requires assembly
With instructions printed in Japan
You see it rarely goes according to plan
Complete, but not quite resembling
The product shown in this photo
Hey, where do these pieces go?

Where do we turn
We start again
And try harder to learn
Love remains our concern.

Too soon to decide
If there's strength
Or if our worlds just collide
Love intends to survive.

Sometimes I get this feeling
We dance like shadows on a wall
We've got the moves, but no emotion at all
Now, if we're through concealing
Darlin', I suggest that we open wide
And determine if our love will survive

And everyday
We've got to trust
And that's all I've got to say
Or love slips away.