

All Good Things

Words and Music © 2014 by Jamie McElman,
Mountain Rise Music, BMI, All Rights Reserved

There's no keeping you from being anything
Don't let 'em tell you why you can't do anything
When they try to take your faith away
Fuck 'em, I say
Don't you worry 'bout a thing
No, don't you worry 'bout a thing.

Keep your head in the midst of life's insanity
There's no point in sharing someone else's tragedy
Let the broken people shout all day
You needn't hear what they say
'Cause it doesn't change a thing
No, it doesn't change a thing.

Sister, you need to keep yourself happy
It's the best thing you can do for this world
While the broken struggle in their chains
Keep your focus on your joy and life will change
Yeah, it'll change
Your life will change.

There's no better day than this very day
To radiate, and send your story beaming into outer space
The secret's out, there's nothing new
But with a lesson or two
All good things come to you
Yeah, all good things come to you (3x).

Your life is just a story, one that has no ending
Tell it best and let it vibrate through this world
There's no reason that it can't be great
You're the author, make your choice
It's not too late (3x).