

When The Heart's Involved

Words and Music © 1991 by Jamie McElman,
Mountain Rise Music, All Rights Reserved

People act so strangely
When the heart's involved
Involved
Love seems to make 'em crazy
They're bouncing off the walls
The walls.

Lover, I'm no dif'rent
From those whom I describe
Don't always see things clearly
Faced with the storm inside
The storm inside.

We search for the balance
Between heart and mind
It's hard to find
We sure could use some guidance
As we seek loves' grand design.

Some people, they get lucky
They're more inclined to hear loves' call
Hear it call
Some just seize the moment
For some, it happens not at all
Not at all.

The world's forever turning
Dreams get thrown unto the wind
And 'round again
Love comes in small doses
Sounds of laughter now and then
Now and then.

So, what becomes the dreamer
Caught up in the world of song
Please sing along
Tell me there's another day
Remind me that I'm not alone
When the heart's involved.