

A Few of the Reasons

Long light in the treetops
A half moon on the rise
Soft notes of the windchimes
A passing butterfly
A tiny wren fairly bellows
His song to the sky
These are a few of the reasons...

Lemon on my fingers
Bourbon in cut glass
Present in this moment
Mix gratitude with that
Distant sounds of the highway
Draw my thoughts to the west
These are a few of the reasons...

I'm thankful for the way I see the world
And the freedom from my past
And the gift of inspiration
From those who've wandered down my path
To my host of companions
Who left these dreams by the gate
These are a few of the reasons...
