

You're Already Gone

Words and Music © 2021 by Jamie McElman
Mountain Rise Music, All Rights Reserved

They conspired their control of you
But you're already gone
They tried to crush your spirit too
You're already gone
Their judgements have no hold on you
See, you're already gone
You're already gone.

Peaceful as the evening comes
Spirit flies into (turns to face)
The sun.

They betrayed the trust that you once knew
You're already gone
And cut the family bond in two
You're already gone
Now you don't care what they think of you
See, you're already gone
You're already gone.

Rise beneath the morning sky
Step out of your skin
And fly.

To all the black sheep of the family
You're already gone
Their rejection is your sweet release
You're already gone
They're so resentful of your sense of peace
See, you're already gone
You're already gone.

Live with honor every day
Speak your truth and go
Your way.