

Different Days

Words and Music © 1983, 2015 by Jamie McElman,
Mountain Rise Music, All Rights Reserved

Someone's gonna have to tell me
See, there's so many things that I don't know
That I don't know
Questions left unanswered
And day turns into night
Into the night.

Ain't it funny how the glitter fades
Did I ever glimpse the truth at all
Can I face the echo of another lonely fall
See, I want to know
I'd understand if I could.

I remember people
Those who didn't run away
At the first sign of rain
Remember taking chances and opening up
And never worrying about the pain
It rarely outweighed the gain
These faded memories make me sad sometimes
Seems at that used to be important
Were just harmonies and rhymes.

Those people and days are gone now
I'm sorry to say
But memories like these can't be taken away
Those people and days are gone, gone, gone now
But memories of them can't be taken away
Back to today...

Some people learn life the hard way
Fighting change without wondering why
Sometimes neither do I
And they nurture their foolish resistance
Can't give themselves away
Hide in the light of day.

Why do people hide their love away
What's so sacred 'bout these barren walls
Why is trust the stronghold most fortified of all
I really need to know
I'd understand if I could.