The universe declares it's time
To feel the earth 'neath my boots
And lose myself among the pines
And spend my days as I choose.

Decades, we slave
Sacrificing our youth
We save, so one day
We'll harvest the fruit.
Do we wait here all our lives?
Until all the stars align
Or do we seize the moment now?
Seize it now.

The universe declares it's time
Time to say my farewell
And step back from the firing line
Reinventing myself.

Sunlight, or shadow
Each moment we choose
Do we lead, do we follow?
We believe, we refuse.
Do we stay once the light dims?
Do we worship what is gone/And we see the love is gone?
Or do we seize the moment now?
Seize it now.

The universe declares it's time
To trust and release
And reap the blessings of my life
And write my masterpiece.

Freedom, it's hard won
Many years on the run
There's a sign, at the crossroads
The moment has come.
We can wait here all our lives
Until we reach the perfect time
Or we can seize the moment now
Seize the moment now.

The universe declares it's time
Time to take to the stage
And share with you these songs of mine
Until y'all know my name
And sing these songs a thousand times
Until the world does the same.
